

Steve Quinney

Member of the public

How ridiculous that all of the UK should suffer LCN changes for 44 channels just so that Scotland can have BBC 4 at a higher LCN. Scotland already has an LCN dedicated to them exclusively (LCN 8) for a channel the rest of the UK cannot get.

If Scotland want their own channel they should have to be the ones to be inconvenienced, not the rest of the UK. Surely, the answer is to move BBC Scotland to LCN 68 so BBC 4 can be on LCN 9 throughout the UK.

Alternatively, are the local stations on LCN 7 classed as PSBs? If not then that LCN is available and move the locals to another LCN.